6 ♣ by South

Lead: ♠ 8

discard a ♦ from your hand and ruff in dummy. If he plays the ♠ K you will ruff, and dummy's ♠ Q will be promoted. If he plays a small ♠ you will let it ride to dummy's ♠ Q.

A fairly complex elimination play to finish off the set.

I hope you enjoyed them.

South plays 6 ♣. West leads the ♠ 8.

You have one ♠ loser and one ♦ loser. A successful finesse will take care of either one of them. Chance of the ♠ finesse working? Zero. Chance of the ♦ finesse working? Maybe 50%. Chance of an elimination play? Priceless.

Win the ♠ A and pull trumps with the ♣ A and ♣ Q. They split 2-1.

Play the ♦ A, just in case there is a singleton ♦ Q somewhere. There isn't. Then eliminate ♥ s by playing ♥ A and ruff a ♥.

Now play a low ♠ from both hands. West doesn't follow suit as East wins with a small card.

East is end-played. He has no ♣ s. If he plays a ♦ it will be into dummy's ♦ K J. If he plays a ♥ you will win with the ♥ A. If he plays a ♠ you will ruff, and dummy's ♠ Q will be promoted.
